

PAINTEDLADY
restaurant

Painted Lady describes Victorian era homes that are lavishly painted in multiple bright colors and meticulously maintained. Bill and Patty Hoover opened their Painted Lady to the public as a restaurant in 1997. Since then, The Painted Lady has served brunch, lunch, afternoon tea and dinner while offering a distinctive atmosphere. In 2009, Bill and Patty's four sons began to lead The Painted Lady in an exciting new direction, offering a delectable new menu, fine wine, live music and original works from local artists. In the spring of 2010, a new 3,500 square foot patio was added so patrons could enjoy delicious steaks, seafood, wine and tea in a relaxing outdoor environment. Today, The Painted Lady continues its family tradition of an unforgettable dining experience.
